LIBERTY BOND SUBSCRIPTIONS IN THIS CITY

A Total of $368,300 Worth Sold in Alexandria—Distributed Among 912 Subscribers.

That the city of Alexandria arose to the occasion and did her duty nobly in the purchase of the Liberty bonds is illustrated by the figures given in the above heading, showing that the total amount of bonds bought is $368,300 and that they were distributed among 912 subscribers.

It was a good job well done.

The total subscriptions in the entire country are over three billions.

BOAT CLUB ACTIVITIES

Members of the Old Dominion Making Notable Improvements to Property—To Have Life-Saving Corps.

Commendable enterprise is being shown by the members of the Old Dominion Boat Club of this city in the improvements which are being made to their property on the river front and in the introduction of various new features for entertainment during the coming summer months.

The club now has a total membership of some seventy or more all of whom are manifesting much interest in the welfare of the organization.

Included in the number of improvements being made are new furniture and curtains for the reception rooms and a general renovation of the entire clubhouse, painting, etc. In fact, when all is completed some of the old members who have not paid the place a visit recently may almost require an introduction in order to be sure that it is the home of the Old Dominion.

At the recent meeting of the club it was decided to form a unit of the American Red Cross life-saving corps and it is expected that a representative will be here within a few days for that purpose. Expert swimmers of the club will compose the corps. Thursday of each week from one to six o'clock p. m., is to be known as ladies' day when the clubhouse and privileges will be turned over to them. On such occasions the gentlemen will be permitted the use of the reception room and front porch only. Two expert swimmers are to be employed to instruct those who may desire to learn to swim and it is expected that a dressing room will be fitted up on the opposite side of the river for the use of those who may wish to enjoy the beach on that side of the Potomac.

It is also proposed to extend the privileges of the clubhouse to the commissioned officers of the several soldiers' camps in the vicinity while they maye be stationed near Alexandria.

Programs are being arranged for various rowing races for canoes and other boats, tub contests, etc., which it is hoped will lend additional pleasure to all who are so fortunate as to be included in the membership of the Old Dominion's family.

LIGHTS OUT ON STEAMER

Banker Excursionists of Washington to Take no Chances With German Raiders.

That government orders will necessitate the dimming of lights on the hurricane deck of the Charles Macalester during its trip down the Potomac tonight was the eleventh-hour announcement last night from the committee in charge of the annual excursion of the Bankers' Institute.

This may or may not be welcome news to those who prefer the uppermost deck of a river steamer to any other section and who will be numbered among the 3,000 expected to take in the bankers' gala event today. United States authorities have given no reason for their possible action other than fear of an attack from German raiders who are reported to be hot on the trail of some of the liberty bond stock they have been led to believe the prospective excursionists knows something about.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Portrays Vast and Insidious Conspiracy of German War Lords Against the World.

Defying a drenching downpour that followed a slashing storm earlier in the day, President Wilson told an umbrellaed crowd of 3,000 persons on the Monument Grouds in Washington yesterday—and incidentally the world—why America's neutrality had become an impossible thing .

Casting aside diplomatic niceties, ignoring subtle and difficult phrases, the President bared his head under the looming bulk of the Monument and frankly called a spade a spade. He traced, step by step, the vast and insidious conspiracy against the world to which Germany's war lords had dedicated their lives and their fatherland.

He told his listeners, in effect, that America could not stand still and watch civilization murdered, while it passively waited its turn before the slaughter house. It was a speech that lifted June 14—Flag Day—to the status of a real national holiday, and there was an outcropping of the Wilson stubborn spirit in refusing to permit a downpour to deprive the world of a statement of international fact.

Liberty and repulsion to militaristic oppression were the keynotes. The President warned the country against a new "intrigue of peace" which Germany is now attempting. He declared that the Prussian country "wishes to close its bargain before it is too late and it has little left to offer for the pound of flesh it will demand.

Among other things he said:

"We are about to bid thousands, hundreds of thousands, it may be millions of men go forth and die on fields of blood far away.

"It is plain enough how we were forced into the war. The extraordinary insults and aggressions of the imperial German government left us no self-respecting choice.

"We know we are not the enemies of the German people and they are not our enemies.

"The whole world is at war because the whole world is in the grip of that power and is trying out the great battle which shall determine whether it is to be brought under its mastery or fling itself free.

"The military masters under whom Germany is bleeding see very clearly to what point fate has brought them. If they fail, their people will thrust them aside.

"This is a people's war, a war for freedom and justice and self-government amongst all the nations of the world, a war to make the world safe for the peoples who live upon it and have made it their own, the German people themselves included.

"For us there is but one choice. We have made it. Woe be to the man or group of men that seeks to stand in our way in this day of high resolution."

Returned Home

Miss Kinnie Smith, who has been visiting friends in Alexandria, left this morning for her home in Petersburg, West Virginia.

John Bernard Manning, millionaire banker and broker, and an octogenarian, with a home on Riverside drive, New York, was defendant yesterday in a breach of promise suit—the outcome of a December and May romance—for $1,000,000, the largest sum probably ever demanded as a heart balm. Honora May O'Brien, 28 years old, with her bronze-gold hair and soft white skin, a typical beauty from the Emerald Isle, told on the witness stand how Manning had promised to wed her.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows will confer the second degree on two candidates at its regular meeting tonight.

Mr and Mrs. Raymond L. Rodgers have returned to their home in Staunton, Va., after a visit here at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rodgers.

Herbert C. Graves, Jr., who has just completed his freshman year at Tuft' College, Boston, Mass., has joined the ambulance corps and gone into training at Allentown, Pa., preparatory to sailing for France.

The funeral of Frank C. Wilkins, whose body was found in the Potomac river yesterday morning, was held from Wheatley's Chapel at 9 o'clock this morning and interment was made in Bethel cemetery. The Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, officiated.

It was learned yesterday that twelve votes will be required to legally adopt the ordinance transferring the additional land wanted by the General Shipbuilding Company on the river front from the city to that company. A meeting of the common council has therefore been called for this evening for the purpose.

The ordinance for imposing and collecting licenses in the city of Alexandria for the year beginning July 1, 1917, as recently adopted by the common council and approved by Mayor Fisher, is published in this issue of the Gazette in compliance with the law. It will be found that there are only one or two minor changes from last year.

RECRUITING IN NEW YORK

Model of United States Battleship Built in Midst of City to Aid in Enlisting Men.

New York, June 15.—Visitors to New York city this summer will find a new point of interest on Broadway. At the corner of Fourteenth Street in Union Square, one of the busiest sections of all Manhattan, there has been placed a perfect replica of a modern dreadnaught. It has been constructed in the center of the park and looks all the world as if it had just arrived in port.

The ship which has been named the "Recruit" was built through the efforts of Mayor Mitchell's Defense Committee and the contributions of patriotic citizens. On Memorial Day with appropriate and imposing launching ceremonies it was turned over by Mayor Mitchell to Admiral Usher for the use of the Navy in recruiting. The ship is manned by thirty seamen from the Training Station at Newport, R. I., and is in command of officers of the Navy. It is being used exclusively for recruiting and events that will stimulate enlisting. All day long speeches are made to the crowd of onlookers while on the main deck men are given information, and after qualifying, are passed on to the examining surgeons who have offices aboard. The turrets are mounted with guns of wood that are very formidable looking while the fighting masts and several genuine machine guns add to the realism. The bridge is equipped with searchlights, signals, semaphores which are worked every night. The complete routine of the ship life is carried out and throughout the day and night the "Recruit" is surrounded by a crowd of interested watchers. It is planned to have a number of interesting events occur on deck every evening. John Philip Sousa, who has just been made a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve, is to make his first outdoor appearance in New York as an officer band master aboard the Recruit, directing the Navy Yard band. Last week nearly three hundred young men who had been enlisted at the New York recruiting stations gathered on the deck of the Recruit before leaving for the training station at Newport. Here they were addressed by Monseigneur Lavelle, representing Cardinal Farley.

Deviled Crabs, little neck clams and clam chowder at Rammel's Cafe.

Alexandria Washington Lodge last night voted to buy $500 worth of Liberty bonds.

The Laymen's League of this city at a meeting last night decided to co-operate with the Y. M. C. A. at St. Asaph.

A colored man and two colored women were fined $5 each in the Police Court this morning for fighting. This was the only case on the docket.

A called meeting of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company was held last night at which resolutions in respect to the memory of the late Milton B. Stearns were adopted.

A young man named W. H. Peters was arrested today at the request of the Alexandria county authorities. He is charged with robbing a man at Potomac and with defrauding a boarding house keeper.

The ladies auxiliary to the Old Dominion Boat Club will give a dance tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock in the club house. This is the second of the enjoyable dances given this season by this organization.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clinton Smoot, Miss Frances Smoot and Mr. Clinton Smoot, who have been the guests of Mr. J. Clinton Smoot's mother, Mrs. Susan A. Smoot, at her home, 301 south St. Asaph street, left today to return to their home in North Wilkesboro, N. C.

Mr. Arthur Herbert, Jr., treasurer of the Alexandria Hospital, reports as having received through F. W. Huddleson, treasurer of Fairfax county, the sum of $25 as a donation from the Board of Supervisors of Fairfax county to the new Alexandria Hospital.

CRUELTY TO A CHILD.

Little One Has Fractured Collarbone And Other Injuries.

The 3-year-old Florence Harris, daughter of Rear Admiral Frederick B. Harris, chief of the bureau of yards and docks of the navy, and Mrs. Harris, of 2340 Massachusetts avenue, northwest, Washington, was so brutally maltreated several days ago that she is now under the care of a physician, suffering from a fractured collarbone and other injuries, was the substance of a story told the police yesterday which resulted in the arrest of Mary Anna Higgins, a former nurse girl in the Harris family. Admiral Harris caused the arrest of the girl when she went to his office at the Navy Department yesterday .

According to the police Florence was found in a serious condition in the nursery of her home on the afternoon of June 2 The child had several bruises about her body besides the broken collarbone. Shortly after the discovery of the child's condition the nurse is said to have disappeared.

Admiral Harris immediately caused a warrant to be issued for her arrest, charging her with violation of that section of the District code which provides punishment for any one convicted of maltreating children.

The prisoner is 28 years old and entered the employ of the Harris family about two years ago. Her services were obtained by Mrs. Harris through a New York employment bureau. Until the attack upon the little girl left in her charge is alleged to have taken place, the nurse girl was well thought of by her employers.

When taken into custody the nurse emphatically denied that she had beaten her little charge. In answer to questions put to her by the detectives, she declared thae she corrected the child by "merely scolding her."

The nurse was held at the house of dentention, and up to a late hour last night had not obtained bond.

Dorothy Rubin, the three-year-old daughter of Charles P. Rubin, was struck by a Main street, Richmond car in front of her home shortly after 6 o'clock last night, receiving injuries which caused her death before an ambulance, hastily summoned from Virginia Hospital, could reach the scene.

Lightning struck five times in Richmond during a storm yesterday. No serious damage resulted.

Members of the Alexandria Light Infantry will assemble at Armory Hall Saturday (tomorrow) afternoon at 5 o'clock to attend the funeral of Milton B. Stearns.

Rev. E. B. Bagby, pastor of the Columbia Heights Christian Church of Washington, will preach and conduct the communion service at 3:30 next Sunday afternoon at the Christian Mission, 1315 King street.

Certificates of promotion will be given to the first, second and third year students of the Alexandria High School on Monday next, June 18th., at 9 a. m. All pupils are requested to report at the school building at that time. Graduation exercises will be held in the auditorium Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission will be by card only.

The Chamber of Commerce last night made an appropriation of $100 for the "Red Cross Week," campaign which will be started here on Monday next. The Chamber was also one of the organizations in the city which purchased Liberty bonds. The backyard garden contest committee of that body held a meeting today at 11 o'clock to arrange for the inspection of the ninety-two gardens in the city which have been entered for the prizes of $20, $15 and $10 offered by the Chamber for the best garden. Examinations of the gardens will begin Tuesday of next week. The committee is made up of the following named gentlemen: J. M. Duncan, J. L. Loose, D. G. Grillbortzer, A. H. Roberts, W. H. Thomas, E. E. Carver and J. L. Preston. The Chamber will hold its meetings through the remainder of the summer months only upon the call of the president, J. W. May.

WANT DRY PRINCE GEORGES.

Legislature Plans to Cut Out Resort For Thirsty.

Annapolis, Md., June 15.—Developments of the morning at Annapolis where the special session of the Maryland legislature is in session, make it almost certain that Prince Georges, the only refuge of Washington's thirsty after prohibition goes into effect in the District, will be dry by May 1 of next year.

The measure is practically certain to pass, with or without the referendum, and the chances favor its passage without reference to a popular vote.

This is the form which it takes in the bill introduced by Delegate Blandford last night, the only measure before the legislature.

BERRIES 18 CENTS A CRATE.

Farmers in Delaware Let Many Rot With Prices so Low.

Laurel, Del., June 15.—Thousands of quarts of strawberries are rotting in fields around Laurel, the growers having stopped picking because of low prices. They pay 2 cents per quart for picking; a 32-quart crate and baskets cost 45 cents, making a crate of berries cost $1.09, in addition to paying packers and the cost of hauling. The average price paid by local buyers yesterday was 90 cents per crate, and some sold as low as 18 cents per crate. The same berries probably cost the city housewife 10 to 15 cents per quart.

There are indications of an enormous yield of peaches, pears and apples, and cherry trees are loaded down with fruit.

GRANTED PERMISSION.

South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky And Alabama State Commissions Comply With Request of the Southern Railroad.

Atlanta, Ga., June 15.—The Alabama Railroad Commission has granted the Southern Railway System petition for curtailment of passenger train service as a measure necessary to enable the road to conserve its motive power, men and fuel for the service of the country during the war. South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky already have granted the petition and hearings in other states take place this week.

PETERSBURG IS WINNER

From 40,000 to 60,000 Men Will Learn Rudiments of Fighting at Cockade City.

Secretary of War Baker yesterday afternoon announced that upon reconsideration, he had again approved of Petersburg, Va., as the site of one of the sixteen national army contonments.

The announcement from the secretary with regard to Petersburg concludes a campaign of more than a month for the location of a camp at that point. Last Saturday the formal announcement came of Petersburg's selection. On Monday an order was issued revoking the designation, upon the ground that the Du Pont's, at Hopewell, had protested.

This resulted in a vigorous renewal of the fight, which was carried by a Petersburg committee reenforced by Senators Martin and Swanson, and Representatives Watson and Glass, straight to Secretary Baker. The latter summoned General Bell to Washington today and, following a conference between them, Petersburg again was selected for a camp site.

From 40,000 to 60,000 men will be trained at Petersburg. This means that by September 1 there will grow up in the heart of the State a new city greater in population than any in Virginia except Richmond and Norfolk. It means that millions of dollars a month will be expended in the markets of the State, and that hundreds of thousands more will be left there by the officers and men.

How long the camp is to remain is a question that cannot now be answered. Certainly it will remain for the period of the war.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Thomas Blair Dillard, of Salem, died yesterday morning in Stonewall Jackson Hospital at Lexington from injuries received Wednesday night in an automobile wreck near Lexington. Dillard was accompanied by Charles Boatwright to Roanoke and they were on their way to Lexington to attend the Virginia Military Institute finals. When two miles south of Lexington, on the National Highway, a wheel collapsed. Dillard was found under the car and was unconscious while Boatwright was lying nearby injured. The dead man was the oldest son of Walter B. Dillard, a druggist of Salem and was 26 years old. He was a member of a hospital corps and expected soon to leave for France.

Governor Stuart has assured Dr. J. Sidney Peters, prohibition commissioner, that every agency of the state at his command can be used to enforce the prohibition law. A conference has been held on the subject, following the return to Richmond of Dr. Peters from Norfolk, where he paid a visit to the Old Dominion line steamer Hamilton and left with about 800 bottles of liquor. That many vessels entering Virginia waters from Washington, Baltimore, New York and other points, including the "tramp" steamers, are bringing liquor to Virginia, there is no question, and the officers are satisfied that this condition exists.

Mr. George W. Gunnell, son of the late Joshua C. Gunnell, of Fairfax, died at his home at Catletts burg, Ky., on Monday last.

KILLS WOMAN IN AUTO.

Ohio Farmer Thought Members of Party Were Trying to Steal His Hogs.

Springfield, Ohio, June 15.—Mrs. J. Elmer Redelle, wife of the president of the Springfield baseball club was shot and killed Wednesday night by J. M. Hinkle, farmer, who thought members of an automobile party, of which Mrs. Redelle was one, were attempting to steal his hogs.

Hinkle is held for investigation and, according to officers, admitted firing into the automobile as it was speeding away from near his place.

Mr. Paul Kester has secured a band of English Gypsies for the circus on Saturday, June 23. The band in their native costumes, will tell the fortunes of all who cross their palm with silver (or even greenbacks). This particular side show will be in charge of Mrs. Louis S. Scott and Mrs. Mauchlin Niven.

HELD CONSTITUTIONAL.

Campbell County Loses Contention Over Omitted Tax Act When Case is Reviewed by Supreme Court.

The contention of Campbell County that the omitted tax act, limiting the collection by localities of omitted taxes on intangible personal property to 1912 and the intervening years, is unconstitutional, failed to hold water in the Supreme Court of Appeals, which yesterday, at Wytheville, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court of Campbell County, refusing to allow the collection of county taxes alleged to have been omitted in the assessment of the property from 1908 to 1912.

Likewise, the court failed to sustain the contention of the State that it has a right to collect the interest on omitted taxes already collected. The State was allowed, under the omitted tax law, to go back as far as 1908 for the collection of taxes found to have been omitted. Interest on the collections amounted to more than $6,000.

Counsel for the locality held the law to be unconstitutional, on the ground that, to say that a locality shall collect omitted taxes only for years since 1912, and that the State may go back to the time the new Constitution went into effect in 1903 is grossly discriminating, and takes away the vested right of taxation given the localities by the Legislature.

Mrs. Margaret Radcliffe Gooch, the young widow of the Mecklenburg lumberman who shot himself on their honeymoon trip, lost both of her suits, one to be named executrix of Gooch's estate of several hundred thousand dollars, and the other to dislodge the Old Dominion Trust Company, of this city, as trustee.

In the case of the Washington-Virginia Railway Co. vs. Fisher, the judgment of the Circuit Court of Alexandria County was reversed.

FLOOD AT BRISTOL.

Stores on Main Street Inundated After Cloudburst.

Bristol, Tenn.-Va., June 15.—Damage to the extent of over $150,000 was done to Bristol and immediate vicinity when Indian Creek, following a cloudburst, overflowed its bank early yesterday morning, inundating the principal business district. Many poor people living along the banks of Indian Creek, ordinarily a small stream, had to flee for safety, leaving their household effects, which are a total loss. Water ran down State street, flooding department stores and business houses.

Although warned by long-distance telephone that a 20-foot bank of water was rushing down on this city, sufficient time was not given to prepare and, as a result, hundreds of clerks were taken from department stores in automobiles and other conveyances.

Probably the largest individual loser was the Columbia Paper Mills, which is said to have been damaged between $30,000 and $35,000. Other heavy losers included the Kenny Coffee Company, Strauss' department store, Bristol Bottling Works and the Bristol Seed and Feed Company. Guests at a local hotel were marooned for hours, while the Virginia postoffice was flooded to a depth of several feet.

The water began subsiding at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and at 6 o'clock street car service was resumed.

Stole Pastor's Hams.

Copenhagen, May 15.—According to the Stargarder Zeitung the local preacher of Tischendorf, in Saxe Weimar, Germany, in the course of a sermon exhorted his parishioners to practice the utmost economy in regard to foodtsuffs and quoted the famous imperial dictum, "We must persevere," urging the congregation to act accordingly.

The following night the pastor's house was robbed and a dozen hams and a quantity of bacon stolen. A placard was nailed to the door inscribed, "We shall now be able to persevere."

PRESIDENT'S FLAG DAY SPEECH

Papers throughout the country are loud in their praise of the speech delivered by President Wilson on the Washington Monument Grounds in Washington yesterday. It is justly regarded as the most lucid expose of German aims—especially towards peace at a time most auspicious for the war lords—and contains many practical thoughts for the people of the nation which have been forced to declare war against a country which years ago planned to bring the world under Teuton domination, including America. Mr. Wilson's speech should be read closely and studied by every lover of liberty.

All the papers which comment upon the address have done well, as Alexander the Great told the gymsophists. The writers seem to have been at their best.

The Baltimore American, among other things, says:

The President rips aside the cloak of duplicity, he enters into the infernal star chamber of the spoilers of the age and he brings forth and holds exposed to the view of the age and for the records of history the most malevolent and infernally conceived and prosecuted plot against human freedom that the world has ever known. Never in councils outside of Hades and surpassing the worst evidence of diabolicalism that has been revealed in human affairs, this peace plot, this high treason against the race, stands out in the burning sentences of Mr. Wilson as a scheme of deep damnation conceived by Germany for the destruction of the symbols and the guarantees of human freedom. Were the German plans to have been consummated the world would have awakened to the horrors now exposed by Mr. Wilson. Brought to light the plot will shrivel and die as the saproots of poison ivy are killed by the direct rays of the sun. The world will feel a profound debt of gratitude to Mr. Wilson for crystallizing and giving concrete expression to the aims of Germany that many have apprehended but could not nearly so well express.

The Washington Post contains a spirited article which shows the desperate straits of Germany after nearly three year's war. It says:

President Wilson's address of yesterday clearly exposes the reasons why Germany is now intriguing for peace. Having executed part of the plan for the conquest and consolidation of a central European empire extending from the North Sea to Asia Minor, and having possession of valuable trading material in France, Belgium and Poland, Germany finds its dream of world domination shattered, new enemies rising, domestic discontent and its resources diminishing. The German war lords know better than any one else that their fortunes are on the ebb. They would make peace while there is something remaining to their advantage. The world has passed the point where it was compelled to give ground to German militarism. The gains made by Germany are plainly attributable to the fact that the world was taken unawares by the combined strength and barbarity of Germany. Humanity was not aware that a murderer nation was plotting against its life. Men fondly supposed that civilization had advanced beyond the age of the deliberate assassination of nations. William II posed as a patron of the arts, boasted of progress in peace, and concealed his real nature so craftily that the world did not suspect that he was a throwback to the age of barbarism. He and his associated assassins were able to build up a murder machine of colossal proportions, and within a month after the completion of the Kiel canal the machine was set in motion. Franz Josef was the tool through which the trap was sprung, and Serbia was to be the first victim. If the great powers had not taken alarm William II would have dominated the world.

"BLUE BOOKS OF BUMS."

The state council of defense is receiving many lists of idlers between eighteen and fifty years of age from the mayors of cities of Virginia, in response to the request of Richard Evelyn Byrd, vice chairman of the council. While the number of responses received constitute only a few of the number to be ultimately received, they indicate that the people of the state have been aroused to the matter, and it is being taken seriously. In numerous instances it has been noticed that men who have never done work of any amount before, have suddenly taken up some duty on farms, in factories or offices.

So determined is Mr. Byrd that there will be no idlers in Virginia, as soon as he has the data before him, request will be made of the various town and county officials to use the law in forcing these parasites to work. It is believed that in the majority of instances, where the local laws will not apply, that the state vagrancy law can be used effectively, and all persons reported will be prosecuted accordingly

It is estimated that there are several hundred well-dressed and able-bodied men in Virginia who make it their business to frequent corner stores or other gathering places, who engage in no work for the economic welfare of the state. On the contrary they play the role of consumers rather than producers They drain the food supply instead of doing anything to build it up. Such a life is entirely at variance with the patriotic duty of every citizen at this time, Mr Byrd says, and if it continues there are ample laws on the statute books to correct it

So cogent was the proposal of Mr. Byrd that the vagrancy laws of the State and the town ordinances against idling without visible means of support be invoked to round up loafers, it is reported in Richmond the Mayor of a certain Virginia town searched the record of his life, decided to turn over a new leaf, took up his hoe and went to work

This story, with every earmark of authenticity. has just been received with great glee by the council, which, through Mr. Byrd, requested all Mayors in the State to furnish it with a list of their street corner loafers who are unable to show that they have a way of earning an honest living. This particular Mayor started at once to set his house in order.

PRIZE FIGHT OF LONG AGO.

Fifty years ago yesterday a brutal prize fight took place at Aquia Creek. The "mill" was between Barney Aaron, who was John C. Heenan's trainer before he fought Tom Sayres in England in 1860, and a pugilist named Collyer .

After the fight the steamboat carrying the principals, their friends and spectators stopped at Alexandria. Some who read this may remember seeing the pugilists with their closed eyes and bloated faces seated upon the upper decks.

Shortly after the close of the civil war, and while much of the dross of humanity which had floated down here during the four years' conflict was still in evidence, a number of prize fights took place near Alexandria. The pugilists and their many friends generally chartered the old steamer Manhattan, which was operated upon the ferry between this city and Washington. The steamer left Washington on such occasions after having made the last trip on the ferry route, and the fight would come off early the next morning at some isolated place on the Virginia side of the river. The steamer made a stop at Alexandria, where such as desired to witness the brutal diversion went aboard.

Prize fights eventually became so objectional to Virginians, many of whom had but a short time before ceased fighting and were then engaged in peaceful pursuits, that the authorities put a stop to such procedures. Sheriffs on several occasions appeared on the scene and arrested principals and spectators.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch in its clippings of half a century ago prints the following in regard to the Aaron-Collyer fight:

"The prize fight at Aquia Creek yesterday was a brutal affair. The crowd of 3,000 toughs was at times boisterous and badly behaved Sixty-seven rounds were fought, the mill lasting one hour and forty-five minutes. Collyer fought desperately while Aaron stood on the defensive, playing the drop game. When the sixty-eight round as called Collyer's strength failed him, and he threw up the sponge. After the sponge went up, Aaron fainted and was laid side by side with Collyer. Aaron had three ribs broken."

THE MODERN HEROD.

Since Herod, so-called the Great there has never been until now among cilized men a human spirit which waged war against the innocents, which treated with deliberate contempt their sacred right to tender consideration and immunity from wrong. Now once more the modern successor of the bloodthirsty monster of Judea slaughters without remorse numbers of children in London and maims nearly a hundred.

As the Baltimore Sun says what a meeting there will be on Judgment Day when the two Herods are brought to bar, when they face the little ones they did to death and the accusing and avenging angels who have written these things down in their books!

But there will be a reckoning before that. It is for us to call this offender of little ones to account. And it will be poetic justice if we can bring the perpetrator to the world's judgment seat by a mighty fleet of aeroplanes that will carry justice to him from the skies. His ruthless air attacks upon women and children will not be imitated, but we shall use his own method in a larger and more legitimate way for his undoing. And when International Justice takes her seat on the bench the dead children of the Lusitania and the little ones of the English streets and school houses will form a multitude of unanswerable witnesses .

THE KAISER'S ELBA.

Brazil abrogates neutrality and is all but at actual war with Germany. Argentina, Venezuela and Chile are all in sympathy with Brazil and the United States against Germany, and the close of the war will find against that power a practically united North and South America, if that union shall not have been actively arrayed in arms against it.

The Louisville Courier-Journal asks was ever a more stupendous blunder than when the Kaiser, having given the word to his Austrian tool to start the war, marched forth in all the splendor of the Prussian military machine, via Belgium, to seek and take his place in the sun?

Already he has lost all his colonies. When he finally quits the struggle he will have made enemies of those regions—notably Latin America—toward which the dreams and plans of German influence and trade expansion had long been directed.

The empire which will be his, if he shall be permitted to return to Potsdam with a crown still upon his head, will be as inexpansible as the island shores of Elba, which constituted the dominion of a certain ambitious predecessor of his at the end of the wars which were to make him, also, master of the world.

IN NEXT WAR CAN CERTIFY BIRTHS.

But Laxity of Old Laws Gives no Record to Prove Age of Enrolled Virginians.

Richmond, Va., June 14.—The Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health is being deluged with requests for birth records it cannot supply, and is being forced to notify hundreds of anxious correspondents that they must look elsewhere to prove they are under or over the legal age of military service.

"It is useless for men who claim to be outside the enrolled classes to write us for information," said State Registrar Plecker today. "Prior to those of 1912, the State of Virginia has no birth records later than those of 1883. Even for years before 1883, the statistics, as complied by the commissioners of the revenue and forwarded to the auditor, are by no means complete. As the cities of Virginia were almost as remiss as the State, until recent years, it is impossible for nine adults in ten to prove their age from official records.

"In the next war, conditions will be different. As births have been legally registered in Virginia since June, 1912, a copy of every birth certificate is on file in the bureau. Twenty-five years from now, if Virginia is called upon to supply troops of a given age, there will not be the slightest difficulty in proving the exact age and parentage of native residents of Virginia. Many of the obstacles to effective enrollment will thus be removed and would be slackers will have to conceal their identify before they can defraud the state and the nation by pretending to be above or below the legal age.

"Marriage statistics, which are much sought after, are also almost inaccessible in Virginia. The clerks of courts are required to gather these statistics and forward them to the auditor of public accounts. But as these are without indexes, they are not easily consulted. The auditor has recommended to the General Assembly that these records be placed in the custody of the bureau. If this be done, they will be indexed and open to all inquirers."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Arthur Willard, 34 years old, former University of Utah student and now principal of the Bingham High School, Salt Lake City, Wednesday night shot and killed Cecil Holmes, 21, one of his pupils, whom he had accused of paying undue attention to his wife, daughter of J. Holden Kimball, prominent chuchman. The shooting took place in Bingham, where Holmes was a boarder in the Willard home.

The two-billion-dollar liberty loan has been placed successfully. This positive statement, made with more than twelve hours still in which to receive subscriptions, is given on the authority of Secretary McAdoo. The Treasury head made no formal announcement of the result of the thirty days' campaign for war funds, but in conversation with a number of callers during the afternoon expressed his satisfaction with the figures which he expects to have tonight.

The destruction of three more Norwegian ships by German submarines was reported in a dispatch from Christiania.

The steerage space of practically every British steamer running between the Far East and Vancouver has been requisitioned by the British government for the transportation of Chinese laborers to be used in the fields and factories of France. On good authority it was learned that the British government plans to transport 250,000 Chinese laborers to supplant the dwindling man power of France. Thousands have already been taken to Europe by the way of Suez and the Mediterranean.

Lightning yesterday struck a barge loaded with ammunition and moored to a battleship at the Philadelphia navy yard. One seaman was killed and two others badly stunned, but neither the barge nor the warship was damaged.

The latest German air raid on London, in which 101 persons were killed and 435 wounded, was the most destructive as regards human life ever made. Since the first of January, 1915, the Germans have made twenty-three aerial attacks, killing more than 600 persons and wounding more than 1,000.

The British continued yesterday to reap the fruits of their victory at Messines a week ago. Signs of a new German retreat were evident. In the seven days that have elapsed since the Irish took the big ridge and pulled the thorn out of the side of Ypres, the Bavarian crown prince made only two serious attempts to regain it. Both failed. Today it seemed as though he had realized there was no chance. Along a front of about two miles between the Lys River and St. Yves, he withdrew his troops from important firstline trenches.

The delegation of Austrian officers and soldiers who last week came to Kishineff, Russia, with peace proposals were yesterday sent to Moscow and will shortly be started to Siberia. They will be interned there as prisoners of war. The government believes that by such action they will effectively stop further attempts by Austrians to penetrate the Russian lines with separate peace schemes. Warning has gone to all Russian soldiers not to permit enemy delegates to reach the Russian lines.

How a 4-year-old son of the King and Queen of Roumania was poisoned and died in terrible agony after eating typhoid-infected candies dropped by a German aviator into a garden where the child was playing is described by Miss Loie Fuller, American dancer, who recently returned to New York from a stay of several months in Europe.

A loss estimated at about $1,000,000 was sustained in and about New York City yesterday, many persons were injured, fires were started by lightning, cellars were flooded for several feet, and railroad traffic was seriously impeded in a terrific rain storm which drenched the metropolis and suburbs yesterday afternoon. The Weather Bureau pronounced the storm one of the worst of the last half century.

A dispatch from London says fifty persons were killed in the explosion of an ammunition plant at Ashton-under-Lyne Wednesday.

Falling directly toward the earth from a height of 2,000 feet with her machine ablaze, Ruth Law, famous aviatriz, yesterday had a narrow escape from death after the gasoline tank of her plane exploded while she was making a liberty loan flight from St. Louis to Chicago. Miss Law had dropped liberty loan bonds over St. Louis during the day and early in the evening left for Chicago. She was near Lexington, Ill., 137 miles away when the explosion occurred. Realizing that her only chance to escape alive was to get away from the flames, she pointed the nose of her machine perpendicularly downward and went at top speed. She traveled so swiftly that the flames were blown out, and as she was within a few hundred feet of the earth, she was able to straighten out the plane and make a safe landing.
